

The background of the entire image is a collection of various decorative plates. There are several large plates with wide white centers and dark blue or black borders featuring intricate patterns like wavy lines, floral motifs, and geometric designs. Interspersed among these are smaller plates, some with solid dark blue centers and white borders, and others with white centers and dark blue borders. The plates are arranged on a light-colored, textured surface, possibly wood or stone, which is visible between the plates.
